audiences, the Institute also developed a series of videos to accompany the report.

The 2018 Hunger Report, The Jobs Challenge: Working to End Hunger by 2030, highlights the role that a fair-wage job plays in alleviating hunger and poverty. The report, developed over the course of 2017, coincides with congressional debate about promoting employment among low-income people through tougher job requirements for programs like the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly food stamps) and Medicaid. It discusses various policies that would promote better job opportunities for low-income workers, ranging from an increase in the minimum wage and improved working conditions for low-wage workers to criminal justice reform. The 2018 Hunger Report was released in April 2018.

The Institute co-created an educational tool, the Racial Wealth Gap Learning Simulation. The simulation outlines 13 federal policies that have had lasting impacts on racial inequity. The quantitative impact of each policy is demonstrated as simulation participants lose or gain money, land, and/or opportunity in varying amounts depending on assigned race. The simulation ends with small- and large-group discussions about the role of race and the impact of federal policy.

To educate policymakers on maternal and child nutrition, the Institute also published fact sheets on nutrition during famines; U.S. leadership and funding to drive global progress on stunting; and the case for bridging humanitarian and development programs through nutrition investments. They were distributed to Congress and the administration.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11b:

The Controller and Director of Finance compare the Federal Form 990 to the audited financial statements. All variances are verified against schedules to determine that they are correct.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c:

On an annual basis, members of the Board of Directors sign a new conflict of interest statement. Any possible conflicts listed are reviewed by the Vice-President of Finance and Administration to determine if they truly reflect a conflict. If so, the statements are discussed with the audit committee. If the committee believes that conflict is real, the Board member is asked to either resign from the Board of Directors or stop the activity that is creating the conflict.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15:

The Institute does not directly hire or compensate employees. All employees are employees of Bread of the World, Inc. (BREAD), a related organization exempt under Section 501(c)(4).

Periodically, BREAD's Human Resource Department receives general market data from an outside compensation consultant to determine if salaries are in line with organizations of similar mission and/or size. A more thorough market analysis of compensation specific positions is provided by an outside compensation consultant on an ad hoc basis.

The President's salary is reviewed by the Board of Directors of a periodic basis. This is discussed and documented in the executive session. These notes are kept by the Board Secretary and are not open to the public. However, the Board of Directors does seek the same independent comparison data for the President that BREAD seeks for all other staff (including other members of the Executive Team).

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19:

The Institute's website includes governance and financial information. Several charity and business rating sites, such as the Better Business Bureau and Charity Navigator, also post these documents and additional information.
